Investment Advisory Services:

The client can determine to engage Hutchison Whitehead, LLC to provide investment advisory services on a fee-only basis. The annual fee for these services is based on a percentage of the market value of the total amount of assets placed under Hutchison Whitehead, LLC's management. Fees are detailed in item 5. Client will receive a copy of our most recent Brochure documents before signing our advisory contract. If the client has not had 48 hours to review the contract they will have five business days in which to cancel the agreement without penalty.

Hutchison Whitehead, LLC uses model portfolios that are tailored to the client's individual situation and goals. Clients' may put restrictions on the buying or selling of certain assets or asset classes.

Hutchison Whitehead, LLC currently manages approximately $55,492,538 in discretionary basis and $5,087,167 on a non-discretionary basis. These assets are almost exclusively using pooled investment vehicles such as mutual funds and Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs), though individual stocks and bonds can be used. Hutchison Whitehead, LLC doesn't provide investment advice in areas of non-expertise (e.g. Hedge Funds).

Hutchison Whitehead, LLC does not participate in a wrap fee program.

Comprehensive Financial Planning:

Hutchison Whitehead, LLC, Inc. provides comprehensive planning services, which involves the gathering of personal and financial data, establishing client's needs, goals, and objectives and the processing and analysis of this information to develop a specific plan to meet the client's stated objective(s). Based upon the complexity of client's financial situation, the final “comprehensive plan” will be comprised of content including, but not limited to, the following areas of “focused planning:” portfolio analysis, estate planning, retirement planning, insurance analysis, gifting strategies, and education planning.

Modular Planning Services:

Hutchison Whitehead, LLC also provides ongoing plan maintenance and “modular planning” based upon the accomplishment of a focused objective. These areas involve assistance and advice to maintain client's stated needs, goals and objectives in specific areas where client and/or Hutchison Whitehead, LLC deem a comprehensive plan is not applicable. These services may include, but are not limited to retirement, insurance, inheritance, career changes, and other areas that may materially impact a client's personal or financial situation. The client will be encouraged to monitor the plan on an annual basis or more frequently when and if the client's personal or financial situation has materially changed.

Pension Consulting Services:

Hutchison Whitehead, LLC provides pension consulting services for a fee to company fiduciaries. This involves helping the plan sponsor set up the plan, enrolling employees, education on investment options and investment/portfolio design.

Fees for this service may differ from Hutchison Whitehead, LLC's normal fee structure.

Hutchison Whitehead, LLC is owned and operated by W. Dennis Hutchison and J. Michael Whitehead.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

Please note, unless a Client has received the firm's Disclosure Brochure at least 48 hours prior to signing the investment advisory contract, the investment advisory contract may be terminated by the Client within five (5) business days of signing the contract without incurring any advisory fees. How we are paid depends on the type of advisory service we are performing. Please review the fee and compensation information below.

For ongoing investment advisor services Hutchison Whitehead, LLC charges a fee based on assets under management. This fee is charged quarterly, in advance, with the initial charge being levied on the next calendar quarter after entering into an advisory contract in calendar quarterly thereafter. This fee is negotiable based on the account size and the individual's situation. The minimum annual fee is $600 per household. Hutchison Whitehead, LLC reserves the right to waive the minimum.

Fee schedule:

1.00% per year $0 - $500,000 (account balance)
0.75% per year and balance above $500,000 - $2,000,000
0.50% per year and balance above $2,000,000 - $5,000,000
0.40% per year and balance above $5,000,000

The majority of client assets are on the TD Ameritrade Institutional custodial platform. Some clients request to have Hutchison Whitehead, LLC manage “held away” assets (assets not on the TD Ameritrade custodial platform – e.g. Company 401(k)). Assets held away are added, voluntarily by the client, to our account aggregation software so that they can be monitored and valued correctly for fee calculation. On the first day of each calendar quarter, held away assets are valued using the values from their outside account custodian which is transmitted to our portfolio management software. Clients will be able to see a breakdown of the assets held at TD Ameritrade and assets held away on their quarterly billing invoice.

Fees are deducted from client accounts at TD Ameritrade. The advisory agreement may be terminated at any time upon written notice by either party. Because fees are paid in advance, in the event of early termination, any pre-paid, but unearned fees will be returned to the client.

In addition to Hutchison Whitehead, LLC’s investment management fees, clients pay trading costs and custodial fees. To the extent that clients’ accounts are invested in mutual funds, these funds pay a separate layer of management, trading and administrative expenses.

All fees are subject to negotiation.

Hutchison Whitehead, LLC fees are exclusive of brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses which shall be incurred by the client. Clients may incur certain charges imposed by custodians, brokers, third party investment and other third parties such as fees charged by managers, custodial fees, deferred sales charges, oddlot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Mutual funds and exchange traded funds also charge internal management fees, which are disclosed in a fund’s prospectus.

Such charges, fees and commissions are exclusive of and in addition to Hutchison Whitehead, LLC fee, and Hutchison Whitehead, LLC shall not receive any portion of these commissions, fees, and costs.

Clients have the option to purchase investment related products with brokers or agents of their choice that are unrelated and unaffiliated with Hutchison Whitehead, LLC.

For financial planning services clients will be billed a flat, project based fee. The flat fee is negotiated based on the complexity of the planning situation (and estimated time involved) and therefore is agreed to prior to signing the financial planning agreement. Payment for the plan is usually split with 50% of the fee due upon signing of the financial planning agreement and the balance due at the completion of the plan. In some cases the full amount may be due at completion of the plan.

Item 6 – Performance Based Fees and Side By Side Management

Hutchison Whitehead, LLC does not charge any performance-based fees (fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client).

Item 7 – Types of Clients

Hutchison Whitehead, LLC provides Financial Planning and investment management services to individuals, families, high net worth individuals, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, corporations, limited liability companies and/or other business types. Our minimum client fees are $600 per year, but we reserve the right to waive this requirement based on circumstance.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Financial Plans and Financial Planning Recommendations are made on an individual client basis, based on in-depth analysis on their risk and return objectives, needs, goals, and current and future financial situations.

While methods of analysis and investment strategy will also be determined on an individual client basis, Hutchison Whitehead, LLC uses a basic framework from which they evaluate all investment decisions. Our research has led us to believe that over the long-run certain investment risks are priced (compensated for and can't be diversified away) while others are not. Hutchison Whitehead, LLC believe that sources of long term stock returns come from exposure to three different risk factors – the market factor (in or out of the stock market), the value factor (exposure to high book to market stocks vs low book to market stocks) and the size factor (exposure to small companies vs large companies). The more exposure you have to each factor the higher the expected return long-term. It is important to note that because these are true risk factors that exposure to them will not lead to outperformance in every period. If so they wouldn't be risky. There is a significant amount of research showing that over long period these factors have been compensated for in both domestic and international markets.

From a Financial Plan standpoint, the overall global risk to a client is whether they execute the recommendations that are set forth in the plan.

We feel it is important to briefly go over some of the risks that a client may encounter with investment recommendations that Hutchison Whitehead, LLC may recommend or has recommended in the past. Prior to the client executing on any Financial Planning recommendation, the executing broker/advisor for the transaction should explain these risks in detail for each specific investment.

In general, “Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear.”

Hutchison Whitehead, LLC commonly makes recommendations on investing in Mutual Funds, Exchange Traded Funds (ETF's), Stocks, Bonds, Certificates of Deposit (CD's), Real Estate Investment Trusts (REIT's), all of which have multiple risks associated with them. Below are some common risks that may be encountered. Please note that this is not inclusive of all risks, and that descriptions of the risks are made in simple terms.

- Mutual Funds and ETF's

- a) Mutual Funds and ETF's are exposed to market risk/systematic risk. These investments often follow a broad market or sector and when the market goes down these may follow.
- b) They may deviate some from their intended investment strategy. Mutual funds may drift in style and ETF's may not follow their index as intended (tracking risk).
- c) Both Mutual Funds and ETF's have management fees and transaction fees. It is important for an investor to understand these. It is very important for a client to go over these in the fund prospectus.
- d) An investor should be aware of investing in foreign countries and the associated currency risk. Currency fluctuations may cause unintended gains or losses on investments.

- Stocks

- a) There is risk that the company will not continue in perpetuity, and complete loss of initial investment is possible.
- b) Companies have market risk as described above in Mutual Fund risk
- c) There is specific company risk. This may be in the form of risk from poor management, lawsuits, product recalls, cash flow problems, fraud, and more, specific to this company. This is referred to as non-systematic risk.
- d) Investment in a single company stock may not provide a client with the needed diversification.

- Bonds- this is an investment in an individual entity that borrows and promises to make payments, of principal and interest back to the investor.

- a) The entity may default, and promised payments of interest and principal may not be made in full

- b) Interest rates affect a bond's pricing. When interest rates rise, generally bond prices go down. If a bond is sold prior to maturity there is potential for loss.
 - c) Some companies that issue bonds have the ability to pay the investor back prior to maturity. In declining interest rate environments this may be unwanted for the bondholder.
 - d) In a decreasing interest rate environment coupon payments cannot be reinvested at original interest rates (reinvestment rate risk).
- Bond Funds- investment in a fund that owns individual bonds.
 - a) Bond funds have many of the same risks as owning individual bonds.
 - b) Duration risk may be encountered. Bond funds may have increased risk to interest rate movements because exact duration of the individual bonds is not known due to lack of transparency.
 - CD's
 - a) Loss of principal for investments above FDIC limits is possible.
 - b) Penalties may be imposed for disposing of a CD prior to maturity.
 - c) In a rising interest rate environment CD's may lose value on the secondary market.
 - d) CD's have reinvestment rate risk as described above.

The Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) charter is a globally respected, graduate-level investment credential established in 1962 and awarded by CFA Institute — the largest global association of investment professionals.

The CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct, enforced through an active professional conduct program, require CFA charterholders to:

- Place their clients' interests ahead of their own
- Maintain independence and objectivity
- Act with integrity
- Maintain and improve their professional competence
- Disclose conflicts of interest and legal matters

Global Recognition

Passing the three CFA exams is a difficult feat that requires extensive study (successful candidates report spending an average of 300 hours of study per level). Earning the CFA charter demonstrates mastery of many of the advanced skills needed for investment analysis and decision making in today's quickly evolving global financial industry. As a result, employers and clients are increasingly seeking CFA charterholders—often making the charter a prerequisite for employment.

Additionally, regulatory bodies in 19 countries recognize the CFA charter as a proxy for meeting certain licensing requirements, and more than 125 colleges and universities around the world have incorporated a majority of the CFA Program curriculum into their own finance courses.

Comprehensive and Current Knowledge

The CFA Program curriculum provides a comprehensive framework of knowledge for investment decision making and is firmly grounded in the knowledge and skills used every day in the investment profession. The three levels of the CFA Program test a proficiency with a wide range of fundamental and advanced investment topics, including ethical and professional standards, fixed-income and equity analysis, alternative and derivative investments, economics, financial reporting standards, portfolio management, and wealth planning.

The CFA Program curriculum is updated every year by experts from around the world to ensure that candidates learn the most relevant and practical new tools, ideas, and investment and wealth management skills to reflect the dynamic and complex nature of the profession.

Mark has obtained his Certified Public Accounting (CPA) Designation. Details on the designations are below.

Certified Public Accountant (CPA) CPAs are licensed and regulated by their state boards of accountancy. While state laws and regulations vary, the education, experience and testing requirements for licensure as a CPA generally include minimum college education (typically 150 credit hours with at least a baccalaureate degree and a concentration in accounting), minimum experience levels (most states require at least one year of experience providing services that involve the use of accounting, attest, compilation, management advisory, financial advisory, tax or consulting skills, all of which must be achieved under the supervision of or verification by a CPA), and successful passage of the Uniform CPA Examination. In order to maintain a CPA license, states generally require the completion of 40 hours of continuing professional education (CPE) each year (or 80 hours over a two year period or 120 hours over a three year period). Additionally, all American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) members¹ are required to follow a rigorous Code of Professional Conduct which requires that they act with integrity, objectivity, due care, competence, fully disclose any conflicts of interest (and obtain client consent if a conflict exists), maintain client confidentiality, disclose to the client any commission or referral fees, and serve the public interest when providing financial services. The vast majority of state boards of accountancy have adopted the AICPA's Code of Professional Conduct within their state accountancy laws or have created their own.
